PUBLISHED EACH MONDAY IN THE SCHOOL YEAR BY THE STUDENTS OF PRESQUE ISLE HIGH SCHOOL

VOLUME IV

PRESQUE ISLE, MAINE,

MONDAY, APRIL 15, 1918-

NUMBER 19

WEEKLY

OF MAINE

HIGH SCHOOL

THE STATE

P. I. H. S. Gloses Season with Victory

MAKES FINE RECORD

trimmed Island Falls Wednesday, 58 points. April 10, by Score 75-17. The visitors weren't in it rolling into the basket, piling up a big score. With things so much Presque Isle own way, slowed up, making the game snow.

This makes the eleventh game which the team has won this season-every one played. Although it is lighter than former teams, P. I. H. S. has had the best team seen for a long time. 'The boys and have worked well together, have been spoken well of in other towns. They had some difficulties at the first of the year, but pulled through, making an excellent We will have some good record. material for next year, but it will be light unless something else turns up.

The game started at about o'clock. Southard, who was on the sick list, was unable to play. His position was filled by Mooers.

half started with The first Moores and Johnston playing the forward position, Gus White cen-fer, and White and Kierstead guards.

Presque Isle started the game with a basket which was followed by one from Island Falls. Then P. I. H. S. got in full swing and Kierstead g 1 their opponents were unable to P. White I g stop them. Island Falls dropped one in once in a while, enough to make them nine points for the first half. After Presque Isle had rolled in 40 points the first half ended. Score 40-9.

Pick-up teams filled in the time between the halves. In the second half the same team took the floor, and Presque Isle again started the scoring.

The visitors weren't any better than the preceding half. During this half Presque Isle loosened their guarding but Island Falls failed even to make their mark of the first half. When the whisblew Presque Isle had piled up 30 points, making seventy-five points in all, while the visitors had only seventeen to their cre-

Southard, who was sick. unable to play, and his position was well filled by Moores, who He did most had been a guard. of his shooting in the first half, making five and only succeeded in getting one in the last.

Johnston gave his usual fast ex-Johnston gave his usual fast exhibition of playing at left forward. He has played in every game this girls will join.

season and has made a fine record. He was in the game every Presque Isle closed its basket minute and shot six goals, which ball season for this year, when it is about his average. Gus Wnite at center ended the season and his career as a basket ball player for P. I. H S. finely. He had a at all. Presque Isle had the ball great eye for the basket, and was about all the time and kept it very slippery with the Island Falls very slippery with the Island Falls players. He dribbled the ball down the floor whenever he liked and shot. He has played on every team since he has been in school. Southard also has played on every team since he has been in school. These two will be greatly missed next year. Gus has been high man in every game. Wednesday he went over his mark and shot 19 field and 5 foul goals. Kierstead played an excellent defensive game at right guard and has all through the year. He has weight year. He held his man down to wo goals and shot one himself. Perley White played a fast game at left guard. He was in the $2.50, $2, $1.50, $1. game all the time and did some He will be a valuable man ing. for next year's team.

Ike Graves refereed the game to the satisfaction of everybody, the Naval Reserve, but is to be He has coached the boys to victory for two succeeding years.

The summary: P. I. H. S. I. F. H. White r f 2 Moores r f 6 Johnston 1 f 6 Paul I f 1 G. White c 19 (5) Flynn c 4(3) St. John r g White 1 g 3 Pettingill 1 g Referee, Graves; timer, Libby; time, two 20-minute halves.

BASEBALL SEASON TO START

The basket ball season over, baseball will next claim the attention of the school. P. I. H. S. hasn't had much of a team in former years, but this year greater effort is being made ward making a winning team. The field is dry and practice will soon begin. Let us see if we can make our baseball record equal to. not better, than our basket ball record.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' AGRICUL-TURAL CLUBS

The Girls' Canning Club is leading by far all other clubs. total enrollment to date is 40, and more are expected to join each day. The prospect for a large and successful canning club very

LOCALS

BOYS WANTED

Boys wanted-to give their support to our soldiers fighting in France by helping to raise more food than has even been produced in Presque Isle before.

Uncle Sam needs your boys. Join a pig club.

PRIZES TO BE OFFERED TO MEMBERS OF BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS.

The local banks have doncted $100 to be divided in prizes among the winners of the different clubs. In addition to his the Northern Maine Fair Association offers premiums as follows:

 Best pig by a member of a boys' or girls' pig club, $5, $4, $3. $2, $1.

Best half bushel of potatoes member of boys' potato club, $5, $4, $3, $2, $1.

3. Pen of chicks by member of a which will count next boys' or girls' poultry club, le held his man down to $2.50, $2, $1.50, $1.

4. Canning exhibit A, by a member of a girls' canning club, $3,

5. Best canning exhibit B, by a good shooting as well as guard- member of a girls' canning club. $3, $2.50, $2, $1.50, $1.

> Harvey Carter is a member of allowed to finish his school year on half pay.

> The number for the High School on the new fire alarm card is 321. An epidemic of colds seems to have struck the school. More than fifty were absent in one day, either because of the grippe, colds.

We admire the pluck of the students at A. C. L., Mars Hill. Even when the school building was burned to ashes. with only the chimney left standing, they congregated in a church and held sessions of school.

The tennis courts are to be rejuvenated by a committee chosen for that purpose.

The snow has disappeared almost entirely, so the boys are playing baseball on the campus.

WAR-TIME GRADUATION

For the first time in the history of the school, all of the exercises are to be held on the school grounds. The graduation day has been set for Friday, May 31.

On that day the school building will be open for graduates and friends of the school. The Assembly Room will be used as a reception room.

There will be exhibitions of work of different departments, especially of the new agricultural class work.

The weather permitting, various athletic activities will be performed during the day.

The final graduation exercises will be held on the lawn, where a stage will be erected for the accommodation of the class of '18.

Seats for a large group of spectators will be arranged near the stage

Definite announcements the program will be made later,

The Seniors have chosen committees which are now working with teachers to complete the details.

FORMING WAR SAVINGS CIETIES IN SCHOOL

Each school in the United States should organize at least one War Savings Society. In public schools and other educational institutions, War Savings Socie-ties may be instituted by grades or classes. When more than one society is formed in a school it will be helpful for each society to compare its monthly savings, the attendance at its meetings, and other activities. Meetings may be held either after or durschool hours.

War Savings Societies should be officered by the pupils. Special forms are being prepared by the educational division for keeping the accounts of War Savings So-

In school societies the principal teacher may delegate members to prepare essays on the elementary principles of government finance, thrift, conservation, or economy, to be read by the members at the meetings of the society. should be encouraged to discuss their essays with their parents. thus further extending to the home the benefit of the school campaign.

Many school children who become members of War Saving Societies can only save by earning, and what money they earn will have to be made on Saturdays and out of school hours on school days. In towns and cities many ways present themselves, such as helping in the local stores, running errands, and work around the farms. By doing the work himself he is releasing a certain amount of labor that can be used for the purposes of the government, and earning money which to buy W. S. S., thus help-ing the government to carry on the war.

AGRICULTURAL CLASS HEARS MR. SWEET.

The agricultural class recently heard Mr. Sweet, potato expert of Mr. Hoover's staff, and president of the American Potato Growers Association.

THE. P I. H. S. FLYER

Entered as Second Class at the Post Office March 3, 1879.

Issued weekly during the school year by the students of Presque Isle High School. Printed by the Star-Herald Publishing Co.

Subscriptions: 75c year, or 5c single copy For advertising rates address the Business Манадет.

The object of this paper is to keep the graduates and friends of the school informed of the school activities, and to promote school

Subscribers are requested to notify the manager of changes in address and of failures to receive any numbers of this paper.

EDITORIAL BOARD May E. Thorpe Editor-in-Chief T. Barton Akeley Eusiness Mgr. Lois K. Hardy Literary Editor ASSISTANTS

Asst. Editor-in-Chief Ruth Lenfest Asst. Business Mgr. Victor Porter Asst. Literary Editors

Local Editor Athletic Editor Alumni Editor Exchange Editor Grinds Editor

Eva Kilpatrick Elizabeth Haynes Ruth Chandler Lewis Horsman Edna Guiou Clara Sprague Paul Snow

EDITORIAL

spring comes again, the rains, mud and dirt that always accompany it begin impress to on our minds their effects, especially in the towns. The streets are filthy. Everything around the vicinity looks dingy and as the snow slowly but steadily melts, piles of ashes, garbage, and countother such things are expused to view.

A successful town does not allow its streets to remain unclean. It cares very much for the ap-No large pearance of the place. or well organized business con cern gives much attention to a town, village or community whose stores are slovenly; whose waste matters, such as old boxes, paper, and cigarette stubs are in sight of everyone and whose streets are not kept tidy. One of the first signs of the prosperity of a town is its neatness and cleanliness, When we say the appearance of a town, we mean not only the looks of main streets, but of all streets, lawns, and yards.

We must keep our school yards as well as our home lawns picked up and neat. It is a part of the civic improvement plan not only to keep your own yard clean, but try to do something for the public yards and domains. If every one of the citizens and the boys and girls of Presque Isle would pledge to do something in the way of cleaning up the town what would the place look like in a very short time? You can answer the question easily. It is our town in which we live and naturally we love it, but have we spoiled its natural beauty? Could we add anything to its attractiveness?

Everyone prefers to live in that is pretty and hard enough. community every town in and these times ought to be so, but in these last days of school. Let us all answer this question, not talking, but by acting, and show our neighboring villages and towns what it means to have real town spirit-and the spirit of cooperation in the matter of Public Improvement.

By having our dividually do it? yards, lawns, back streets and garbage cans cleansed very often. at Presque Isle, Maine, under the Act of By increasing the beauty of the town by planting trees and raising beautiful flowers. By keeping off the grass this spring, so that it may grow and beautify our surroundings.

We do not wish outside people to make unfavorable comments on for service and this defect may our town. It would not make for our business interests. Therefore let us keep the vicinity in such a condition that such remarks could not apply to us. It is for the good of the commonwealth. each one individuany so we ought to consider it our duty to do our part in this improvement.

Let us all do something in cleaning up places which are still impure for health and make Presque Isle a model town for and a better place civic service. in which to live.

We have only a little longer to stay at school this year to study, to enjoy our friendships and to face failures or successes.

A year has glided by, not without many breaks in our system, howevel.. Illness and disease have caused many of them, but now these are over for the and the school year is present rapidly 18 drawing to a close.

Some of us have just the remaining few weeks of this year to go to school, and it seems as if we would all rather leave behind record of which our school could be proud, than to leave one in-complete and of low standard, but to do this we must work earnest-ly. We are not all brilliant, but we can all do our best and that is all anyone could ask of us.

Sometimes students get the idea teachers hold a grudge against them, and that they are trying to hold them back in their Students! Just stop for a moment and ask yourself what motive could a teacher have in so doing? He or she has none. They would much rather have us succeed than fail in our course, and what is more, any teacher will give assistance where it is needed and courteously asked for, but are deadweights to our if we how could a teacher be classes interested in us? We show by our attitude then that we are not sul-ficiently interested in ourselves to be an active member.

Remember! School life, as well as any other ife, is what we make it. It is for us to set the pace of our success. It is up to us to decide for ourselves whether or not will succeed in this year's work. What will we do about it? We owe ti to our school to gain a fair record.

Many have gone far below the usual standard for the year. it too late now to start again? No! It may be too late to bring owr ranks up to a high mark, but surely we can make them at least a little above passing if we study

Let us make every minute count we must aid. How shall we in- us train our whole mind to grasp and brilliant artists in the world, the principles of our work and let us win!

We are fitting ourselves for life in a world of awful war. Are we satisfied with the result? Could we, if we were suddenly thrown on our own resources, gain a good livelihood? Some of us could; many could not. Those who could not have yet lacking the training be remedied partially by the brief period yet left to us.

not everything altho' it Work is not school life, it forms the greater part of it. There is much It is for enjoyment in our special cises in chapel and talks from men of education. Besides these moral training is evident in such We a large student body. that politeness and kindness go far in all walks of life. Have you developed these five traits? yet If you have not, then why not do it now? Let's just get a glimpse What will you do to help. Let of the bright side of life and surroundings and cultivate the habit of looking cheerful and "digging hard." If the soldiers can "Pack all their troubles in their old kit bags and smile, smile, smile!" in the face of death and other things, then surely we can here, with every comfort about us. will help us everywhere. It will make everyone feel one hundred per cent better. It will aid us in learning our lessons,

How many students in Presque Isle High School will make good these last few weeks? This question every person must answer for himself, but it is hoped that at the end of the year every one of us will have a record to show that we have done our very best, nd in the face of difficulties have made of the school year of 1918

PAINTING PRESENTED BY MISS FLORENCE M. HALE

A calendar with a reproduction of a copy of a beautiful painting entitled "The Stars and Stripes Forever" was presented to the school by Miss Florence M. Hale.

The story that occasioned the painting of this picture is related

On November 25, 1783, the date on which the British loyalists evacuated New York, Gen. Knox marched in to take possession of The British had Fort George. nailed their colors to the top of flagstaff, knocked off the cleats, and "slushed" the pole from top to bottom to prevent its being climbed. John Van Arsdale, lively sailor lad of sixteen years, determined that the American flag must at once assert the freedom of the States to the ships containing British and loyalists, that were even then sailing down the harbor. Nailing on the cleats, he climbed the flagstaff, tore down the mother country's flag, and in its place unfurled a beautiful new American banner of the stars and stripes, the soldiers and citizens cheering the act of patriotism wildly.

The artist of this picture. Henry Mosler, is one of the most famous

Everything the Girls Need

COMPLIMENTS

GREEN'S

My "Clothiers."

The Home of

HART SCHAFFNER & MARX CLOTHES

፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟፟

SAY GIRLS!

Millinery, Suits and Coats. Dresses just in, especially designed for girls your size, age and Come and see

Riley's Dry Goods Store

Presque Isle, Me.

Watch This Space Next Week!

LITERARY

MARION'S DREAM

her accustomed chair by the open ly. fire after a hard day's work at lea Each night Marion usually spent a few minutes there before retiring. Tonight, instead of resting, she was thinking-think no more bandages. They are all ing of the things she was doing,

"If I were only a boy," she thought, "I could be in the service, and a real help to my country; instead, I am only a girl, and there doesn't seem to be anything really big or worth while that a girl can do." Then suddenly a girl can do. Then self in her new plan formed itself in her Pod Gross nurse! Yes. her mind.-A Red Cross nurse! that would be worth while! A real service to perform.

. . . .

Marion was now a happy girl. She had been accepted for special Red Cross work in France. clothes were all packed; every-thing was in readiness for the journey. Soon she was to say good-bye to family, friends and schoolmates. The farewells were the hardest part of all. That she, Marion Davis, was giving up the best mother in the world, the riches and happiness of a wealthy home, and the host of friends, seemed almost impossible.

Then the train whistled, and Marion. almost panic-stricken, could hardly restrain from rushing into her mother's arms and sobbing, "I can't leave you and the others. Oh Mother, I can't."

Another voice whispered "Your chance, the chance you wished tor-make good."

Before the train had reached the station, Marion had fully re-covered her self-possession. The last farewells were over. Marion climbed aboard she smiled bravely and when the train had carried her from the sight of her bravery.

Marion could remember scarcely anything about the journey to New York, the voyage across the Atlantic, or the traveling in France. It all seemed so vague, so unreal. But when the field hosneed to be reminded where she The thundering of the big work to be done.

gave Marion a hearty greeting, then quickly added, "Report in 15 minutes in uniform, with working materials. Miss Davis. We are but very much crowded and lack many die. things, but you must do your best; we need you badly."

In fifteen minutes Marion reported, and was given instruct vis, tions This ward had once been a rude farm building, but had recently happening. roughly remodeled for a delirious, others unconscious, and a girl, and can not fight, and I am ther, giving water to one and EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS OF fresh bandages to another.

She had scarcely time to perform these duties, before other wounded soldiers were brought in. Those who arrived first and received first aid were moved farther back and others took their Marion Davis had dropped into places. Marion worked incessant-At last she was obliged to leave her ward in order to get more supplies from the physician.

"Miss Davis," he said, "we have gone. There will be no more unthe things that she could do and til the soiled ones are cleaned the thing she would like to do. and sterilized. You must do your "If I were only a boy," she best without them."

"Do without them!" Just what it meant to be without bandages and supplies at this very moment was more than even Marion could realize. All the patients in her ward had had their wounds sufficiently cared for to enable them to be moved farther back, except one soldier, who had been brought just as Marion had gone for more supplies. His colorless face haunted her. The steady loss of haunted her. blood had weakened the once nowerful body. Unless the bleed-'ng was checked—how could it be checked? The wound was serious it needed immediate care, and al-illful attention and many bandages.

There was something about this soldier that had attracted Marion, had made her feel the helplessness of his condition, and had made her determined to save his Hife. She needed antiseptics, adhesive plaster and bandages. She must. at least, have bandages. The could not wait for new supolies, it would be too late. With out further delay. she snatched her white apron from her and began tearing it into strips. These she sterilized as best she could. and as soon as possible she began to roll the long strips torn from her dress The task seemed end'ess. Had she been too long? The material in the apron was heavy, and it was impossible to keep the bandage absolutely light.

Was the life of this soldierfriends, they never doubted her this soldier who had made Marion Davis determined to save, now t slip away from the world simply because of the lack of a few bandages? The helplessness of the case made Marion faint. reeled and staggered forward.

"Marion. wake up!" said her pital was reached, Marion did not mother. "You nearly fell out of your chair."

"Oh Mother," sobbed the half guns in the distance and the noise awakened Marion, "I've just had of battle meant that there was a dream about being a Red Cross nurse in France, and Mother, the The physician of the hospital nicest soldier I ever saw was dybecause of the insufficient ing supplies for his wounds. woke me up before I really knew but I can't believe that he did Do you suppose my dream could possibly be true to the real conditions in France?

"Yes, Marion," replied Mrs. Da-"the Red Cross needs many to look after Ward No. 2, more workers for its hospitals to prevent any such thing actually "Mother, I have changed my temporary hospital. It was now mind. I can do a service for my crowded with the wounded, some country, here at home, if I am but others groaning with pain. Marion going to begin tomorrow by workpassed quickly from one to ano ing every day for the Red Cross.

LIEUT. MERRILL MCINTIRE IN FRANCE.

It is a wonder that I am not dead before this, after what I have been thru, but my early training prepared me for a good many things, thanks to circumstances.

Just for the sake of spending a few leisure moments and perhaps entertaining you at the same time, here goes one of my experiences on the front not long since.

It was about 7 A. M., and I had charge of a detailed party of infantry consisting of sixty men. was working in conjunction with the engineers constructing trench support. Well, I had my detail out and precede me with guides about a quarter of an hour. One of the sergeants and myself brought up the rear. The sergeant (Steve) and I were walking along conversing in low tones and enjoying the fresh air, the roar and bark of our own heavies from behind, and the whistle of edicts bound for Germany. I had been explaining a chemical experiment "By the way," to the sergeant. said I, "I wonder hy Fritz is so quiet tonight." Steve said "Must be out of pills." The sound of his voice had not died out when-Whiz-err-er-r-r Bang -er-r-r-r!about sixty feet in front of us. I literally dove for a shell hole about five feet from me and had the pleasure of having shrapnel whistle over my head. The last I saw of Steve before I hit my refuge, his heels were splitting the air, making as pretty a parabola as any high dive I ever saw. struck on his head and shoulders in a shell hole six or eight feet deep and containing a couple of feet of real muddy water. Steve and I are accustomed to such things now and there is always a funny side to them. I crawled out of my refuge and said "Hello, Steve! Where is your location on the map?"

Steve came out dripping water. Steve is a humorous cuss.

"Fritz has some big freight left and I was born in a cold country," said he. One will laugh and joke right in the face of death.

Well, we missed our trench in the darkness and haste to get out of that territory,

Another shell struck about the same distance behind us as the first was in front. We landed in little town which has been wiped off the map. The place was unfamiliar, and we started back. when I heard another shell coming from Germany, right for us. One never hears the gun from which these shells come, they are Well. I ducked into so far away. he stone walls. Bricks flew for quarter of a mile. I finally found my trench and was walking alongside of it, when I heard Ger-many again. This time I dove the trench. into and the shell passed over me about 100 yards.

We laugh at our actions when it is all over, but it is serious enough while it is going on.

served a hitch in the front line and all. I I have trenches, been under bambardment and had the shrapnel burst all round, machine gun bullets whistle in my ears and rifle grenades burst over my head, real compan-

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 1)

Established 1886

Tel. 404-2

Member R. M. D. Ass'n.

Granite

Presque Isle Memorial Works

Latest Designs Pneumatic Tools F. B. THOMPSON Presque Isle, Maine

A Full Line of Tennis and Sporting Shoes

COOK'S SHOE STORE

DON'T FORGET THOSE D & M Victory Goods 10 per cent Dicount to P. I. H. S. Students

LETS ALL FIGHT for a clean-up year

SIDNEY GRAVES Hardware OPPOSITE POST OFFICE

COMPLIMENTS OF

F. R. COY

PRESQUE ISLE, ME

(Continued from page 3.) ionable. I came thru' without a scratch, and the whole company without a I was with was lucky. The boys are all in good spirits, and just mad enough for business.

A peculiar feeling there is in a man's dome when he is close enough to hear the breech block shoved home and the great shells start from the German line. It makes him think of all his past whether sins and wonder the Kaiser has his number or not. A man on the line lives underground all the time. The outer air is un-Dugouts are twenty to thirty feet under ground and some of them large enough to quarter a whole battalion of troops.

All northern France is a desolate battle field, swept of everything either natural or artificial. The forests are laid low by shell hre and whole towns are cleaned from the map. If one could tra-vel for miles in a burnt land such St. Croix, it would resemble a little the battlefields of Europe. It worse than any burnt land, however, for desolation. samus or graves, dead horses exposed to the weather, wafting perfume in the wind. It is similar to a wilderness, and a difficult place to travel in. One gets lost quicker, if anything. God helping, this hell on earth shall cease before many months.

GRINDS

All that are great are dying, And I'm not feeling well. Bill Laffin.

A little maid may cast a long shadow.-B. Price.

I love its giddy gurgle, love its fluent flow.

love to wind my tongue up, I love to hear it go,

-Eva Hoyt.

For the love of Mike! did you ever see-May Thorpe get "B?" Sarah Britton have her English? Bartin Akeley with glasses? Eva Hoyt get thin? Lillian Munson have a beau? meiodious thrill in Phyllis O'Donnell's laugh?. Teachers lose their wrath?

What is a hypocrite?" "A boy who comes to school with a smile on his face."—Ex.

Myths Every Child Should Know That's as far as I had translated.

Someone borrowed my fountain pen and I couldn't write them,

Lend me a nickel-I'll pay you tomorrow.

I just came out here to sharpen my pencil. I wasn't talking to ---, I was just looking at her. That's the part of the lesson I

No, I have no idea who stopped the clock.

I had to go on an errand down

Got my feet wet.

Fair Maiden-"Have you read "Freckles?"

L. Horsman-"No! Brown."

ALUMNI

When Presque Isle High School was young, methinks an Alumni found little would have trouble in locating the whereabouts of its members. Now that she has grown to numbers more than three hundred, and the these addresses correct, so that if graduating classes number among the forties, this task has become accordingly great. It interested me much the other day to look up those who enjoyed their work and play here when our High School in its youth, and many interesting items about the earlier classes.

In 1895 three people graduated. Myrtie E. Foster married Richard Hoyt. They resided for some tim in Presque Isle, but are at present living on a farm near Maple They have four children, two of whom are already in High School, Eva. a member of the Junior, and Avis, a member of the entering class. Lulu Roberts, married L. D. McLeod of Houlton. and they are living there at the present time. The editor of this department was unable to get definite information in regard to Mrs. McLeod. Any word from her would be appreciated. The third member of '95 was Sadie Bennett, who is now Mrs. Ralph Sprague of Presque Isle. Mr. and Mrs. Sprague have one daughter, Clara, who is a member of this year's graduating class.

In 1896 began the increase for which P. I. H. S. has been noted. for this year the graduates numbered four. May Gould has been teaching music in Brewer some time past. Helen Barker taught for a while in P. I. H. S., and later married J. E. Roberts. They are living in the West. Alanda Boyd married Parker Smith of Mapleton, and they are living there at the present time. Mrs. Smith is teaching one or the Mapleton schools this year. Fern Chandler is now Mrs. Fred Foster. She and her husband have always lived in Presque Isle. Their only son, Frank, is a member of our Sophomore Class.

Seven young men and women received their diplomas year of 1897. Roy C. Thompson has been located for some years with E. W. Fernald. He married Maud E. Redman, '98, and they are living on Dyer St. of this town. William Bolton is living in He has married quite Caribou. recently. Pauline Smith is now Mrs. Chas. Taylor of this town. Bat. F., 7th Reg. C. A. C., Am. Exp. Her eldest son will be one of the class to enter next year. Emma Bishop married Leonard Lamoreau of this town. After living here for some time, they moved to Richmond. Me., where they are now Nellie Whittaker located. hes been for years one of the town's most successful rural school teachers. She is teaching this year at Hayden School. Margaret Merritt married J. Frank Guiou, and they have lived since their marriage, on a farm on the Fort Road. Their eldest daughter, Edna, is a member of the Sophomore Class. Estella Thompson, since graduation has clerked in different stores. She is now managing saleslady in Riley's Dry Goods Store, and is most efficient in her chosen line of business,

To the members of these three early classes, the Alumni Depart. asleep.-Ex.

P. I. H. S. IN THE U. S. SERVICE

Below we are publishing the the names and addresses of alumni and undergraduates of P. I. H. S. who are serving their country in either the Army. Navy or Medical Corps. We shall endeavor to keep any of our readers wish to correswith these boys they may find their addresses easily. If any mistakes occur, we should be most grateful for corrections.

Brig. Sergt. Maj. Isaac McGlauflin, 38th Infantry, Co. D, Camp Green, Charlotte, N. C.; Lieut Green, Charlotte, N. C.; Lieut Merrill McIntire, Co. M., 103rd Inf. Am. Exp. Forces; Walter Cassidy, Co. L., 103rd Inf., 26th Div., 52 Brig., Am. Exp. Forces; Roy Kierstead, U. S. S. Olympia, Care of Postmaster, N. Y.; Wm. Fabian, U. S. S. Birmingham, Postmaster, N. Y.; E. Stewart Lang. Arizona, Postmaster, N. Y.; N. Y.; E. Stewart Lang. U. S. S. Eli Burgoyne, 9th Co. S. N. Y., Fort Tilden, N. Y.; Ord. Sgt. Floyd Mc-Glauffin, Inst. Camp, Bar. No. 2, Camp Herring, Peoria, Ill. Lowell Bishop, Co D. 38 Inf. Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C; John Ketcham with 20th Engrs.: Vernon Moran, Office Chief Quartermaster, 42d Div. American Exp. Forces; Chester Bean, Oglethorpe Hospital, Ogle-Ga.; Claude O'Donnell, Base Hospital, Ayer, Mass.; Geo. Putnam, 103d Inf., Am. Exp. F., N. Y. City; Ivan McGlauffin, U.S. N. Radio, U. S. S. Corsier, Care Postmaster, New York City: Leroy Norton, Co. L. 103 Inf. Am. Exp. Force, Via New York; Vernon Southard, U. S. Army Hospital Fort Logan H. Roote, Arkansas; Owen E. Blackden, Co. 5, 2nd Reg. M. M. Signal Corps, Camp Hancock, Ga., Weldon H. Rolfe, Kelley Field No. South San Antonio, Texas; Howard Cook, Sixth Co., Division Supply Train. Camp Wadsworth. Spartanburg. S. C. Ray McGlauflin, 26th Co.. Fort McKinley, land, Me.; Jerre Cook, Co. E., 103d U. S. Infantry, Am. Exp. Forces; Granville L. Allen, Base Hospital, Camp Jos. E Johnston, Jacksonville Florida; Pearl Pennington, Carop Jackson Base Hospital, Columbia South Carolina; Jerry Glidden. 21st Co., Portland C. A. C., U. S. Arsenal, Watertown, Mass. Elwood Lee, Batt. F., 2 F. A., Philippines. Ray S Blanchard, Co. 13, 2nd Motor Mechanic Reg., Signal Corps, Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga.; Ralph Stevens, Camp J. E. Johnston. Jacksonville, Fla.; Fred Sprague, Force. Linwood Chase.

Ray Goding, died in service.

would extend congratulations. Each one has done his or her bit in a most efficient way in the past, and we feel grateful for the example they have furnished

Mr. Loring-"Your answer reminds me of Quebec."

Why, sir?" asked the bright sophomore.

"Because it is founded on such a high bluff."

She—"You sang 'Awake My Soul very feelingly."

He-"No wonder, my foot was

Buy a Liberty Bond

Kuppenheimer Spring

Guaranteed All Wool It pays to buy the best

D. A. STEVENS COMPANY

H. Everard Hooper

Registered Optometrist

Eyes carefully examined and glasses properly fitted.

Tel. 356.

Office, A. M. Smith Block. RESIDENTIALIAN DIRECTOR CHI ANADOR COSTO PER CONTRA CONTRA CONTRA CONTRA CONTRA CONTRA CONTRA CONTRA CONTRA CO

BUY A LIBERTY BOND!

Putting the curtain on the rod is an easy job-with Kirsh special thimble given free by

R. J. Smith & Co

Wanted!

Your Job Printing Business

If WE Please You TELL OTHERS! If WE Don't TELL US!

STAR-HERALD PUBL. CO.

Presque Isle, Me. **********